

I want to tag my HOWTO about SLiM, and I wonder if tags are limited to a single word. Is something like “login manager” a valid tag? What do you suggest?

You can add multiple tags, space-separated, like this:

```
{{tag>foo bar}}
```

If you want a tag that looks like it is multiple words (like “slackware 13.37”) then you replace the spaces with underscores. The underscores will be rendered as spaces in the final page view±

```
{{tag>foo bar slackware_13.37}}
```

Using double quotes around a tag with multiple words is accepted as well but I find that not as readable.

I understand “visually unappealing” is the ad usum delphini version of “butt-ugly” 😊 Niki —
