Sources section?

Shouldn't we include a sources section at the bottom of each page to the template for new articles? This will encourage users to attribute properly and give themselves credit for original articles. — Harishankar 2012/08/24 06:53

Good idea! — Eric Hameleers 2012/08/24 07:22

About the use of the discussion page: is it really useful to add the timestamp of the comments knowing that we live in different time zones? escaflown 2012/09/01 11:52

> it's automatically added by the WYSIWYG signature button (but I agree that's kinda useless, and hopefully I still have a watch set with Europe's timezone ^^ Doh, it rather looks like US Pacific time). — zithro 2012/09/05 11:36

A part (there, 2nd sentence) seems unclear/wrong to me: "[…]frustrate all these potential writers, the more so since we count on[…]". Could the author rephrase it please ?
PS: why do I have to use an extra space before the horiz line ? Doesn't work without. — zithro 2012/09/05 11:33

Is any help needed here? What do we need to finish off this article? — V. T. Eric Layton 2012/09/11 17:41

> alienbob created the page with a WIP alert. I guess no one removed it yet, we may now? A note: I removed the non-english submissions part and linked to the translation guidelines. But the latter is waiting for your validation noc ;) — zithro 2012/09/14 09:35 (edited at 14:00)
