

There is already a Chrome page... Maybe better to merge the 2 pages? KookieMonster — Hi KookieMonster. I think a link from `slackware:google-chrome` pointing to the `google-chrome` howto will be excellent. escaflow — actually, a merge is needed. escaflow — OK, from `howto` here or here to `howto`? cmyster > My understanding is that the `slackware:` namespace is meant purely for Slackware Linux related topics meaning topics dealing with Slackware-specific system administration. Application software related topics should go into the `howtos`. Edited to add: I am not 100% sure of this. Admins are in control of the namespaces and they have final say in the matter. — Harishankar
